Adjusting your LPG/NGL strategy in a volatile and turbulent global energy market.

For more than thirty years, the IHS Markit International LPG Seminar & Workshops has been a leading gathering of NGL industry decision makers from around the globe.

At our four-day event, we will offer workshops that take a deep dive into key industry sectors, a globally-focused conference program, and an offsite tour. Sharp movements in crude oil prices have altered the outlook for NGL/LPG production and pricing. Our program will seek to answer key questions on the minds of today's LPG industry professionals.

Join industry peers for an in-depth market analysis and coverage of the most important issues facing the global LPG/NGL industry today.
